the owner or owners thereof, as to the amount of compensation to be paid for the laying said pipes through said lands, or the price of such lands, as the case may be, by reason of the unwillingness of said owners, or any of them, to accept such compensation or price as the said directors may deem reasonable, or by reason of the absence or legal incapacity of said owners, or any of them, it shall be the duty of either of the justices of the supreme court of this state, upon application to him by said directors, or on their behalf, and after ten days' previous notice in writing of such application to the persons interested, if known and in this state, or if unknown or out of the state, after publication thereof for any term not less than twenty days in a daily newspaper printed at Trenton, to appoint three disinterested appraisers from the county of Hunterdon to determine the compensation to be paid for the laying of said pipes through said lands, or the price to be paid for said lands, as the case may be; and it shall be the duty of the said appraisers (after having taken an oath or affirmation faithfully and impartially to discharge the trusts herein reposed in them, and after having carefully viewed the premises) within twenty days after the appointment, to deliver to said directors a written appraisement, under the hands and seals of them, or a majority of them, of the award they have made, containing a full description of the lands through which the pipes are to be laid, or of the lands required for the erection of reservoirs or other works, as aforesaid, which appraisement the said directors shall cause to be recorded in the registry of deeds for the county of Hunterdon; and upon payment or tender by the said directors to such owner or owners as aforesaid, or some one of them, of the sum awarded in such appraisement, if any, then the said directors shall have the right to lay said pipes through the lands aforesaid, or the said corporation shall be deemed seized in fee simple of the lands required for the erection of the said reservoirs, or other works as aforesaid; and in case any owner or owners of such lands shall be feme covert, under age, non compos mentis, or

6. And be it enacted, That whenever it shall become necessary to make any repairs or alterations in any pipes which may have been laid through any private lands, either by virtue of the preceding section or by agreement with the owner or owners thereof, it shall be lawful for the said directors, with their workmen and agents, and with necessary vehicles, tools and implements, to enter upon said lands and make the necessary repairs and alterations, doing no unnecessary damage; provided, always, that nothing in this section contained shall be so construed as to protect the said directors, or their workmen or agents, from any action that may be brought against them individually by the owner or owners of said lands, for any damage which they may have wilfully or unnecessarily done.

Assessments to be made on lands subject to be overflowed.

1. BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That for the greater convenience of the owners of these flowed lands to improve the same by drainage, they shall begin at the turnpike bridge, in the village of Chatham, and from thence shall terminate their work at the northeast end of an island in the river Passaic, belonging to Charles Hopping and John Cook, a small distance below Hanover bridge; that it shall be the duty of the managers, to be appointed as hereinafter mentioned, to make assessments upon all the lands within the bounds aforesaid, subject to be flowed by the Passaic river and its branches, between the turnpike bridge, at the village of Chatham, to a point below the northeast end of the aforesaid island, below Cook's bridge, at Hanover, for all such sums of money as they in their judgment shall deem sufficient to remove all obstructions to the free course of the waters in and near said river and its branches, between the points above indicated.

How assessments are to be made.

2. And be it enacted, That the said assessments shall be made equitably, whether in proportion to the quantity, and the advantage and benefit the said lands will derive from the clearing out of the obstructions, whatever they be, in and near the river aforesaid; and in order to ascertain the sums of money necessary to be raised, it shall be the duty of said managers, or a majority of them in each district aforesaid, to view and examine said river, the obstructions to be removed in the same, as well as the several road embankments near the bridges, and which appear to act as dams upon the river to stop its course.

Commissioners of appeal.

3. And be it enacted, That Stephen D. Hunting, Joseph C. Ward and William T. Budd shall be commissioners of appeal in and for the district aforesaid before described in section first, with full power and authority to review the assessments made by the said managers, and to reduce any assessment made by the said managers to such sum as they, or a majority of them, shall deem just and equitable; and the decision of said commissioners shall be final and conclusive upon all parties.

Parties aggrieved by assessment may appeal.

4. And be it enacted, That the said managers, or one of them, shall give notice in writing to the owner or owners, possessor or possessors, of the flowed lands by them assessed, of the assessment made and the amount to be paid by each; and if any person shall consider himself or herself aggrieved, it shall be lawful to apply to the said commissioners, whose duty it shall be thereupon to fix a day when they shall meet upon the lands alleged to be overtaxed, of which meeting three days' notice shall be given to the party applying to said commissioners, and also to said managers; and the said commissioners, or a majority of them, shall, at the time and places so appointed, proceed to hear the allegations of the parties and examine the lands assessed, and make such order touching the assessment complained of as they shall deem just and proper; and in case said commissioners shall reduce the amount of any assessment, they may at the same time make such allowance of expenses to the party aggrieved as they may think just, and also deduct the same from the amount of his, her, or their assessments.

Proceedings in case of non-payment of assessments.

5. And be it enacted, That the owners and possessors of said lands, respectively, shall be liable to pay the amount of the assessments to be made as aforesaid; and in case any person shall neglect for the space of forty days, after notice given to him or her, and demand of payment to pay his or her quota of the said assessment, or to apply to said commissioners to meet and hear his or her complaint against such assessment, then it shall be lawful for said managers, or a majority of them, to make return of the name of such person, with the amount of his or her assessment; or in case said commissioners shall have reduced the amount of any assessment, then of the amount adjudged by said commissioners to be just, to any justice of the peace in the county where such person resides, and the said justice, upon the oath of any one of said managers that the amount has been duly demanded forty days previous thereto, and remains unpaid, shall immediately issue a warrant of distress, directed to some one of the constables of said county, commanding him within thirty days to levy upon and seize the goods and chattels of such delinquent, and make sale of so much thereof as may be necessary to pay such sum of money, together with the costs, and pay the same over to the managers, or one of them, and the justice and constable shall be entitled to the same fees and subject to the same penalties as in other cases of taxation.

Moneys collected, how to be applied.

6. And be it enacted, That the said managers shall apply the moneys assessed and collected under this act to clear out and remove obstructions in said river and its branches aforesaid, as well as to procure the extension of county bridges, where the passage of the river has not sufficient room; also in such cases as where it evidently appears that any of these causeways or the embankments to said bridges have been formed so high above the flat land as to act as dams to interrupt the flow of the freshet waters and force the same back upon the lands, then and in that case said managers to proceed and open sluices through embankments of sufficient depth to let the surplus water through the same and bridge over said sluices so as not to impede the public travel; and said managers shall keep just and true accounts of all moneys by them received, expenses incurred and payments made, which accounts the said managers shall lay before a committee to be chosen as hereinafter directed at the annual meeting of the owners of the flowed lands, when this committee shall report upon the same, and the balances there may be, if any, shall be paid over to their successors in office, and upon neglect or refusal so to do, the same may be recovered of them by action of debt, to be prosecuted in the proper name of any one of the committee aforesaid, before any court having cognizance thereof, to be applied to the purpose of removing obstructions in said river.

Election of managers.

7. And be it enacted, That the owners and possessors of the flowed lands between the turnpike bridge in the village of Chatham and the northeast end of an island in the river Passaic below Cook's bridge, in Hanover, belonging to Charles Hopping and John Cook, shall meet on the fourth Tuesday of April next after the passage of this act, at one o'clock in the afternoon at the school-house in Squiretown, in Livingston, Essex county, and then and there, by a majority of votes of those met, choose three persons, being owners of the said lands overflowed, to be managers under this act for the ensuing year, and also three other persons to constitute a committee to examine the accounts of said managers, and the subsequent annual meetings shall be held on the fourth Tuesday of April, at such place as a majority of said owners or possessors at any annual meeting assembled shall appoint and direct.

Vacancies, how supplied.

8. And be it enacted, That in case a vacancy shall happen by the death of one of the said managers, committee, or commissioners of appeal, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the managers, or the survivors of them, to give notice in writing, by advertisement, set up in six public places, adjacent to the lands subject to be flowed as aforesaid, for at least two weeks, of a time and place for the owners and possessors of said lands to meet, to choose a person to fill such vacancy, and the person chosen at such meeting by a majority of the votes of the owners and possessors assembled shall fill such vacancy and have all the powers and privileges, and be subject to the like penalties, as the person was whose place he is chosen to fill.

Penalty for obstructing course of water.

9. And be it enacted, That if any person or persons shall hereafter fell any tree into the said river or its branches, or cut or leave any wood or brush in said river, or upon the ice, within the limits aforesaid, for the space of six days, or by any other means, create any obstruction to the free course of the waters of said river and its branches, within the said limits, and shall not remove the same within ten days after being required so to do by any one of said managers, every such person or persons so offending shall forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be sued for, recovered and applied toward the clearing out of obstructions in said river.

Managers to continue in office until others are elected.

10. And be it enacted, That in case any omission to elect managers, in the manner directed by this act, shall at any time happen, the last managers elected shall continue in office until others are elected in their stead.

Approved March 23, 1859.
